

December 16, 2006

The Honorable James Saxton
2217 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Congressman Saxton:

I write to you after viewing former Vice President Al Gore's film, An Inconvenient Truth. I find it of grave concern that the threat of global warming remains unaddressed. An energy policy that puts the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions, notably carbon dioxide, needs to be passed into law. The United States, by far the largest emitter of greenhouse gases, needs to take a leadership position to address this threat to the global environment.

As a member of Congregation M'kor Shalom, and more important, as Jews, we are taught the concept of tikun olam (repairing the world). Every additional ton of greenhouse gases is damaging our world. Thus, the elimination of greenhouse gases is a moral imperative.

Therefore, we strongly urge you to lend your voice in Congress to pass sensible legislation that begins to reduce greenhouse gases both here in the United States and through American leadership, around the world.

Sincerely,

December 16, 2006

The Honorable Robert Menendez
502 Senate Hart Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senator Menendez:

I write to you after viewing former Vice President Al Gore's film, An Inconvenient Truth. I find it of grave concern that the threat of global warming remains unaddressed. An energy policy that puts the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions, notably carbon dioxide, needs to be passed into law. The United States, by far the largest emitter of greenhouse gases, needs to take a leadership position to address this threat to the global environment.

As a member of Congregation M'kor Shalom, and more important, as Jews, we are taught the concept of tikun olam (repairing the world). Every additional ton of greenhouse gases is damaging our world. Thus, the elimination of greenhouse gases is a moral imperative.

Therefore, we strongly urge you to lend your voice in Congress to pass sensible legislation that begins to reduce greenhouse gases both here in the United States and through American leadership, around the world.

Sincerely,

December 16, 2006

The Honorable Frank Lautenberg
324 Hart Senate Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Senator Lautenberg:

I write to you after viewing former Vice President Al Gore's film, An Inconvenient Truth. I find it of grave concern that the threat of global warming remains unaddressed. An energy policy that puts the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions, notably carbon dioxide, needs to be passed into law. The United States, by far the largest emitter of greenhouse gases, needs to take a leadership position to address this threat to the global environment.

As a member of Congregation M'kor Shalom, and more important, as Jews, we are taught the concept of tikun olam (repairing the world). Every additional ton of greenhouse gases is damaging our world. Thus, the elimination of greenhouse gases is a moral imperative.

Therefore, we strongly urge you to lend your voice in Congress to pass sensible legislation that begins to reduce greenhouse gases both here in the United States and through American leadership, around the world.

Sincerely,

December 16, 2006

The Honorable Robert Andrews
2439 Rayburn House Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

Dear Congressman Andrews:

I write to you after viewing former Vice President Al Gore's film, An Inconvenient Truth. I find it of grave concern that the threat of global warming remains unaddressed. An energy policy that puts the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions, notably carbon dioxide, needs to be passed into law. The United States, by far the largest emitter of greenhouse gases, needs to take a leadership position to address this threat to the global environment.

As a member of Congregation M'kor Shalom, and more important, as Jews, we are taught the concept of tikun olam (repairing the world). Every additional ton of greenhouse gases is damaging our world. Thus, the elimination of greenhouse gases is a moral imperative.

Therefore, we strongly urge you to lend your voice in Congress to pass sensible legislation that begins to reduce greenhouse gases both here in the United States and through American leadership, around the world.

Sincerely,